Delightful Pastries partners Nico Hua and Chef Robert Hawryszczuk

At Delightful Pastries' Wells St. location in Chicago, the most popular sandwich on weekends is the Three Piggly Wiggly ($10). Meat-loving chef/partner Robert Hawryszczuk created it with a trio of pork ingredients—schnitzel, Gypsy bacon and Polish ham. There are three sauce options, including a Japanese-inspired version, beets with homemade horseradish, and a homemade BBQ sauce fused with bourbon and ghost chili pepper. "This sandwich represents our idea of cooking, to fuse the most representative part of our own culture and make it fun," Hawryszczuk says. The bread? A housemade "everything bun."
